Summary

It was many late nights spent coding after studying all day while in college before I built my first website.

But when I did, I learned something unexpected about myself. I learned why I truly love to code. That particular app was built to solve a small problem I had in my life, Learning I could develop a web design using codes, to consistent journaling, and by completing it I realized the immense satisfaction I get from building something real, that makes someone's life easier, using nothing but code and my own effort."

I'm obsessed with solving complex problems using React, React/Redux, and Node by building web applications with an emphasis and accessibility and usability.

I'm currently looking to contribute my skills to a team where I can prove my skills while growing in my capabilities in:

1. Web Application development.
2. Mobile Application development.
3. Websites.
4. Web service development and integration (RESTFUL API's)

My main language is Javascript and have knowledge in react.js,redux, redux query, styled components,material ui, html, css for frontend development, node.js for backend development
